What do I do when someone uses Chamber Bucks in my store?

Chamber bucks are just like regular money. The customer can use it as they would any type of in store credit or in store gift certificate. To make things simpler, we ask that the customer comes as close to spending the exact amount or greater of the chamber bucks in store, if they don't use the entire value at one time, change can only be given for no more than 20% of its value.

Someone used their Lemmon Chamber Buck's in our business; Now what?

Once you have the Lemmon Chamber Bucks in your hand, you can either bring it down to the chamber office, and within a week's time, I will come back in with a check from our bank account, that you can then put into your account. Some businesses, decided to collect them for a week or more and bring them into me, weekly. That way, you will just have one check from the weeks' worth of Chamber Bucks instead of potentially several over the course of a week. Please write your company name on the Buck and drop them off or mail them to the Chamber office.
